“SakshathKaram”: Home for Destitute

The success is impending from the right way while Municipal Corporation of Trivandrum stepped into a new persona. When hopes met success fetched smiles on many faces and that is “SakshathKaram”, the destitute rehabilitation centre. This centre has rehabilitated those who ditched on the streets to live rest of their lives. The vision was born after central government weaved a project to provide Basic Service for Urban Poor (BSUP) and furnished through National Urban Livelihood Mission (NULM). The desire to create a nest to the weary souls who abandoned in the city after the begging legally prohibited and to raise them up to become sturdy and burly.

The tale starts when all the doors closed for the destitute after commencing a beggar free city. They roamed in and around the city to appetite the hungriness but many of them were botched to dig up it and snubbed by many. Many of them were physically and psychologically feeble and that pulled off them to disarray. At this time, Corporation has taken a challenge to mend them with proper care and support. They were rehabilitated to “Kothalam” (a place in Sreekandeswaram Ward) with limited resources and amenities. The requirements increase as soon as the strength on inmates increases and it brought many challenges.

“Kothalam” facility meant for the rehabilitation of beggars and to shelter abandoned elder rescued from the street has only limited facilities. There were no provisions for recreation, sufficient toilet and bathroom facilities, cleanliness and also sufficient Human Resources to look after their day today needs.

Here comes the role of Kudumbashree an organization selected as the state level nodal agency to enforce BSUP and NULM activities in Kerala has initiated to setting up a new face for the abandoned poorest of the poor in the urban area. When BSUP project has commenced by central government lent a chance to Corporation to craft a utile rehabilitation centre with all the amenities. Then Corporation has purchased land for it and masterminded a marvellous house with the help of COSTFORD agency. They made a design which carefully fashioned the needs of inmates in every corner. 16 rooms, 6 bathrooms, 12 toilets, 20 luggage shelves, kitchen and store room, living and dining, room for care taker and administrator, balcony, courtyard, multipurpose hall and lobby have arranged for them to step out of their boxes. After the construction the furnishing was another challenge for them. That was the time when NULM project has extradited by central govt to corporation. It focuses to bring urban development through livelihood and shelters to urban people.

The NULM CMMU team with the support of ULB officials visited Kothalam and new shelter at Kalladimugham and done the need analysis and submitted project for refurbishment under NULM shelter component to get assistance under the project to procure furniture, support and O&M including HR support.

The “SakshathKaram” bring out more opportunities to the inmates that help them to keep engaged. The centre has enhanced the physical, social, health and psychological conditions of the inmates. More than the food and shelter, the centre has boosted up their hope to live. Each individual have separate bed and wardrobe with hygiene. “Now am enjoying the tasty foods and good facilities which I never expected” says Lakshiamma, the oldest person in the centre. Television provided to know what is happening in the world and also for their entertainment. Each inmate are diagnosing every day to improve the health conditions and providing proper medication with the help of professionals. Moreover, the wheel chairs, walking sticks and other medical equipment lend more health support. The psychological support has also providing to help them to come out from the depressed state and be live in the present situations. This psychological support helps 5 inmates to find their family to step out from the rehabilitation centre with all the legal rights.

“Sakshalkharam”: Home for Destitute

As a second phase of the project the CMMU team is scheduling to implement skill training and microenterprises for the inmates, for that we are on the way in analysing the capacities of inmates and facilities of shelter home to undertake such activities.

The primary outcome of this project, the ultimate sustenance of the inmates, brought satisfaction among the entire well-wishers. Corporation has a prospect to the public to support the inmates on their special occasions like birthdays and anniversary. Donations received from several people and institutions to the special account started in the Canara Bank for this purpose (Account No: 2906101014328, Manakkad branch-IFSC Code: CNRB0002906). The contribution from many sponsors shows us that still there is good mankind who really wants the eventual welfare of the society. The upcoming activities and programmes that aim to deliver the capacity building in with different modules have motivated them. Above all this success, Corporation with the mastermind is still keeping eyes on the people those who still on the street and deserve the caring.

To sum up, destitution is an extreme condition of income poverty; destitute people have been socially expelled; most destitute people are extremely underprivileged in capability dimensions of poverty too. Hence the state plays an active role in the process of rehabilitation of destitute. Within a twinkling time our ULB has succeeded in making “SakshathKaram” as a dream home for 32 destitute for fulfilling their dreams of endurance.

Kamalamma heads home, to Saidapet

She had been living at the Corporation-run beggar rehabilitation centre in the city

R.K. ROSE

THIRUVANANTHAPURAM: Her face cracked into a smile as she became sure that she was finally heading home.

Kamalamma, in her sixties and a resident of Chennai, was reunited with her daughter Suguna R. and grandson Nareesh Kumar on Monday morning after more than a year.

She had been living at 'Sakshikaram', the beggar rehabilitation centre run by the city Corporation, since she was found by the police at Thiruvananthapuram in April last.

When Kamalamma met Suguna and Nareesh who had reached Thiruvananthapuram by train, she did not show much emotion.

This was in stark contrast to early morning when she seemed excited at the prospect of going home with them, the rehab centre authorities said.

Dressed in a Kerala sari, with a maroon blouse, she climbed up the steps of the District Legal Services Authority with her kin, and waited for the procedures connected with her return to get over, even dozing off in between.

Kamalamma has no recollection of how she reached the city, but her condition then was such that she was taken to the Mental Health Centre, Perorekuda, for treatment. She is fine now, though under regular medication, and had no problems in recognising her relatives.

Suguna, who works at a popular sweet shop at Adyar in Chennai, was traced by the District Legal Services Authority as part of an initiative to locate the kin of those from other States who are living at the rehabilitation centre and send them back home.

Suguna said her mother would wander off on her own in Chennai too. She expressed worry over how to look after her mother especially when she went to work. Nareesh worked in Visakhapatnam, and her daughter was married, she said.

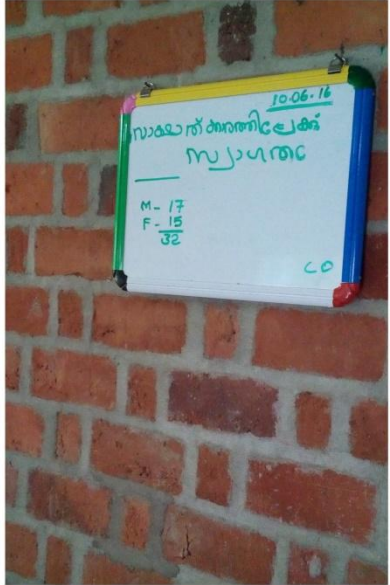

Legal aid

To ensure that Kamalamma was properly looked after, District Legal Services Authority secretary B. Prabhathil Kumar issued a letter to the sub-inspector of the Saidapet police station, in whose limits Suguna lived, to take them to the office of the Saidapet taluk legal services authority for making available necessary legal aid.

He also wrote to the chairman of the taluk legal services committee requesting Kamalamma's rehabilitation in a government care home considering the family's circumstances and their financial position.

The chairman was also urged to ensure Kamalamma's care and protection with the cooperation of the family members.

The process over, it was time for the family to head to the rehabilitation centre for lunch, and from there to catch the afternoon train to Chennai.
